

I find my power in my family.

Their tobacco is not our tobacco.

Many of us who were once addicted have found our strength, our power...
in each other.

We find it in our children.
We find it in our wise elders.
We find it in our parents & grandparents.
We find it in our brothers & sisters.

Together we are strong.
Together we can fight back against commercial tobacco.

Because together,
we are that power.
